

Canine & Small Animal Massage Course

Gerry, our teaching assistant, looking over one of the student's anatomy lab workshop assignment.

Sharon Jones-Gilmore (Instructor) during a massage treatment with a wonderful dog named Cola.

Course Instructor:

Sharon Jones-Gilmore BA, RMT, AMT
Registered Massage Therapist & Certified Animal
Massage Therapist

621 King Street
Fredericton, New Brunswick, E3B 1E9

E: lovepuppy@nb.aibn.com
P: 506-472-9663

For more Information about course please contact Sharon at the above contact information.

Course Description

The goal of this course is to teach therapeutic massage to be used as a tool to complement the services of veterinarians and to work towards strengthening the total delivery of quality of life care to our small animal companions.

The course instruction is to include:

- Canine Anatomy and Physiology
- Canine Biomechanics
- Common Medical Disorders
- Assessments and Massage Techniques
- Proper Handling and Communication Procedures
- Remedial exercise and Homecare
- Legal and Ethical Issues
- Common First Aid

Materials & Fees

Tuition Cost: $875.00 plus tax

Provided in the cost of tuition:

1. Text book and lecture notes
2. Access to additional learning material throughout course instruction
3. Use of Canine and Feline skeletons and other visual learning Material
4. Material for anatomy lab workshops
5. Live animal interaction in class time

Course Requirements for completion

- 1) Students must be in attendance for all 5 days of the course's duration
- 2) Complete a practical massage demonstration on the last day of the course
- 3) Completion of the course work assignment package. (Students have three months from the date of course to complete this requirement)

Date: Nov. 6th to Nov. 10th

Location: Canine Water Wellness - 5303 Canotek Road, Ottawa, Ontario.

Starting at: 9:00 am, Saturday Nov. 6th